U.S. CONTROL OF TRUSTS URGED

Minority Report of Steel Trust
Probe Committee Agrees
on That Point

J. P. MORGAN IS FLAYED FOR WATERING OF STOCK

Labor Conditions in Steel Mills
Criticized—8-Hour Labor
Shifts Recommended

WASHINGTON, July 29.—That President Taft is more in accord with the findings of the minority members of the House steel investigating committee than the report of the majority was indicated today by the issuance of a pamphlet headed: "Resume by Competent Persons," a statement relating to the investigation which was released simultaneously with the report of the minority members last night. It was admitted at the White House that the resume was prepared by Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee.

In a recent message to Congress on the Sherman anti-trust act, President Taft urged federal incorporation as a supplementary means of curbing trusts, and this method is one of the leading features of the minority report.

The full report is signed only by Representatives Gardner and Danforth. The remaining Republican members, Representatives Sterling and Young of Michigan, filed individual dissents on the exact character of remedial legislation needed.

Messrs. Sterling and Young agree with their Republican colleagues that federal incorporation for concerns of more than $50,000,000 which desire to enter into interstate commerce, is a remedy for present industrial evils, but they decline to go so far as to recommend the federal regulation of prices, which Gardner and Danforth advocate in the event the situation cannot otherwise be met.

The four Republican members agree on the following salient findings of fact as developed by the long investigation of the United States Steel Corporation:

Capitalization Watered
That J. P. Morgan & Company received $62,500,000 for organizing the corporation and that nearly one-half of the capitalization of $1,400,000,000, was water.

That the average annual earnings of the Steel Corporation have been from 11 to 12 percent of its assets and the corporation controls more than one-half of the crude and finished steel business of the country.

That the average wholesale prices of steel products has been lowered since the corporation was formed, but that the corporation and all independents have an understanding as to price.

The system of interlocking directorates has insidious consequences and tends to "inside management" and the stifling of competition.

That the situation as to the iron ore supply is grave and may become menacing, and that labor conditions in certain departments of the steel industry are bad.

Commission Recommended
The creation of an Interstate commission of industry similar in powers to the Interstate Commerce Commission, is recommended, and this new commission is to bring about full publicity of all corporations chartered.

The minority report coincides with the majority report in that it recommends that industrial corporations should not own common carriers. The Republican members are also agreed with the Democrats that corporations, charged with violations of the Sherman law, should "bear the burden of proof" when charged with unreasonable restraint of trade. The minority also agree with the majority that individuals and states should have the right to intervene in anti-trust suits.

Shorter Shifts Advised
In criticism of the labor conditions existing in the steel mills the minority recommends that in blast furnaces and rolling mills three shifts of men working eight hours a day should take the place of two shifts working twelve hours each.

"We do not hesitate to say that this transaction of J. P. Morgan & Company must stand condemned before the more enlightened business ethics of later years," says the minority, in referring to the $62,500,000 fees exacted by the Morgan syndicate in the formation of the steel trust.

Omitting the Hill ore land leases, the minority finds that the Steel corporation still controls 50 to 55 per cent of the Lake Superior high grade ores and 35 to 50 per cent of the ~~ores~~ in the Birmingham district.

On the ground that it cannot be done without injecting a political dispute, the minority does not discuss the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the Steel corporation, which was permitted by President Roosevelt.

When he recovered he charged his wife with attempting to murder him. Mrs. Grace asserting her innocence. It is alleged another woman is involved in the case.

35-YEARS DROUGHT PREDICTED FOR PARTS OF EUROPE

BERLIN, July 29.—Dr. A. Peppier, a prominent meteorologist, expressed the opinion that Germany and Central Europe are entering upon a period of thirty-five years of drought.

In an exhaustive paper just published, analyzing the weather conditions of the last year, he says the late Prof. Brueckner established a thirty-five year climatic periodicity in which one epoch of warm and dry weather succeeded a period of cold and wet weather.

Dr. Peppier, by tables and attendants' indications, decides that the hot and dry period, which is to last for the next thirty-five years or so, began in 1911.

WAS JOY RIDING IN UTTLEY'S AUTO

Jean Monet, Aged 18, Arrested for Unauthorized Borrowing of Car

OUT OF GASOLINE AND WENT TO STORE

Local Officers Are Determined to Put a Stop to the Illegal Practice

Jean Monet, aged 18, of 1528 West Second street, was taken to jail Saturday night on a charge of taking B. Utley's automobile without first having permission to do so. Monet had the car for nearly two hours, and was arrested when the machine ran out of gasoline and Monet went to Blenckebcker's store on West Fifth street for a new supply.

Utley left his automobile, an E-M-F, standing on Bush street just north of Fourth, shortly before 8 o'clock. The machine was missed about 9 o'clock, and all of the local officers were soon informed and on the trail. Recently there have been a number of instances of unauthorized auto-borrowing, and the officers are determined to break up the practice. Several of the officers went out in automobiles to hunt for the missing car. Constable Sorenson of Huntington Beach, who was in Santa Ana, was given a description of the automobile, and while on his way home he found it at Blenckebcker's store. Monet said he drove alone, and most of the time in the northern part of the city. On running out of gasoline he went to the West Fifth street store, near which he was when he asserted that he had been reprieved. He had bought a small quantity and was putting it into the tank when Sorrenson put him under arrest, and telephoned word to Santa Ana. Monet was brought in by Constable Jackson and Deputy Jailer Murray.

Monet admits taking the machine. Utley had left it without a spark plug, but Monet had supplied a spark plug from his own pocket.

It is thought that Monet had something to do with some of the other instances of automobile taking. He seems to have a great fondness for automobiles. At a local laundry, where he has worked, it is said that he never missed a chance to get into an automobile.

This morning Monet was taken before Justice Cox, and was given his freedom on $200 bail. His trial on a charge of misdemeanor was set for Aug. 7.

Local officers are working together on all cases of automobile thefts, and any owner missing a machine should immediately notify some officer that the officers may get hot on the trail. This was the procedure followed by Utley, and it helped the officers materially.

LEAVITT, DARROW JUROR, RETIRED ACCOUNT ILLNESS

Juror Leavitt having been excused because of illness, Juror A. M. Blakeslee, the alternate, took his place on the jury today.

Defense Attorney Earl Rogers demanded that the state produce a copy of O. A. Twelme's testimony before the grand jury, also copies of the documents purporting to be signed by Clarence Darrow. The prosecution objected and long arguments followed. Rogers asserted that the defense ought to have the transcript and copies, so that the prosecution would have no unfair advantage.

A large crowd gathered today expecting to hear Darrow testify, but the defendant had not gone on the stand up to noon.

JUDGE ARCHBALD IN FORMAL ANSWER

Admits All of Acts in Charges of Impeachment But Says
They Were Innocent

HE DENIES CASE HAS YET BEEN MADE AGAINST HIM

Emphatically Disclaims Using His Judicial Influence in Corrupt Manner

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Admitting practically all the acts in the impeachment charges against him, but emphatically denying that he corruptly used his judicial influence, Judge Robert W. Archbold of the United States Circuit Court today filed his formal answer in the case.

He asserted that no case had been made against him by the House representative. He admits being involved in numerous deals while on the bench; he admits soliciting high railroad officials to further such deals; he admits that promissory notes bearing his endorsement were presented to attorneys and litigants in his court; he candidly concedes that he wrote letters to and visited railroad officials to further private business for himself, his associates and friends, but he says every such act was innocent. He does not even admit that he acted unethically.

Admitting that he visited the Erie railroad officials in New York and Scranton to aid Edward J. Williams in obtaining their proposed option on the "Katidid" coal pile, Archbold says his part was that of a friend of Williams. Judge Archbold admits that he figured in the negotiations with railroad heads for the settlement of the suit of William P. Boland, Archbold's accuser, against the carriers, but denied that he did so for a consideration.

Judge Archbold also admits writing letters to Helen Bruce, attorney for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad without the consent of the other parties in the case to get Bruce's opinion in the case. He denied that such action was wrong.

"It was solely out of friendship for Fred Warneke," Archbold says, that he asked the Reading railroad officials to extend Warneke's coal lease. The answer asserts that the $2500 note endorsed by himself in 1908 was presented without his knowledge to the attorney in whose favor he had decided a case just seven days before.

Archbold says he appointed J. B. Woodward as jury commissioner in his federal court in Scranton without knowing that Woodward was the Lehigh Valley railroad attorney.

"The respondent denies," Judge Archbold's answer concludes, "that he undertook to carry on a general business for speculation and profit in the purchase and sale of coal, coal dumps or undertook to compromise litigation pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission for a valuable consideration, or ever concealed his interests in personal contracts."

SIX KILLED... TWO FATALY INJURED

Auto Crashed Into Lake Shore
Train at Toledo, Ohio—
Only Baby Unhurt

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 29.—Six persons were killed and two fatally injured late yesterday afternoon, when a Lake Shore & Michigan Southern train, due in Toledo at 4:20 o'clock, struck an automobile containing nine people, twelve miles north of here. Two women, a man and three boys were killed outright.

The automobile belonged to the Cousino family of LaSalle, Mich.

A man and woman were rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital. A baby three years old, was the only occupant of the machine that escaped.

The accident happened on a grade crossing. The view of the railroad tracks was obscured by a corn field, and the occupants in the machine did not see the train, as it seemed, until they were directly on the track.

Eddie Foy Is Sold.
NEW YORK, July 29.—Weber & Luesser, theatrical managers, have paid to Charles B. Dillingham $25,000 for the contract of Eddie Foy and the production rights for Mr. Foy's latest musical comedy success, "Over the River."

This is the highest price ever paid for a theatrical star, and outranks the $25,500 purchase price paid by the Pittsburgh National League baseball team for "Marty" O'Toole, the pitcher, less than a year ago.

CHICAGO FRAUD WAS SHAMELESS, SAYS T. R.

Roosevelt Says Attempted Defense of Chicago Convention by Taft Falls
Flat—Case Equals Tweed
Thefts

OYSTER BAY, July 29.—Colonel Roosevelt today took direct issue with the statement issued from the White House in which the national Republican committee's acts in the contests at the Chicago convention were justified. He denounced the actions of the Taft men and said the Chicago convention, if it had been honestly organized, would have been against President Taft's renomination. Roosevelt said:

"This attempted defense by Mr. Taft does not and cannot controvert a single statement I made in my three Outlook articles. I did not consider one-third of the cases that should have been considered. I merely took the notorious cases where there was no possibility of the facts being disputed. These cases alone, if it had not been for the downright theft perpetrated by the Taft lieutenants, would absolutely have presented Taft's nomination. I wish to state that there is no room for honest doubt regarding what happened in Chicago. Fraud, barefaced and as shameless as was ever committed by 'Boss' Tweed's machine in the days when there was no pretense of holding fair elections in New York. It is not a mere coincidence that nineteen of the senatorial leaders concerned in the theft at Chicago were also leaders in the fight to retain Lorimer's seat in the Senate."

ATTEMPTED DEFENSE—"NO STEAM ROLLER," SAYS HILLES

WASHINGTON, July 29.—A statement approved by President Taft defending his nomination by the Chicago convention was made public at the White House yesterday. It reviews every contest before the Republican national committee and the credentials committee of the convention, and asserts that each contest was settled logically upon its merits. The statement was submitted to the cabinet at a recent meeting and received the approval of the President's official family.

The statement, which is a document of 144 printed pages, is a detailed denial of the charge that the renomination of President Taft was accomplished by the seating of fraudulently elected delegates to the convention.

A resume of the statement is made by Charles D. Hilles, formerly Taft's secretary, but now chairman of the Republican national committee. Hilles declares:

"There was no steam roller in operation; the committee voted in accordance with its convictions, and as it was compelled to on the evidence."

MAN'S BODY IS RECOVERED

Bridge-worker Drowned in the Channel on Land Side of Island on Friday

NEWPORT BEACH, July 29.—The body of Robert E. Mitchell of Los Angeles, who was drowned in Newport Bay Friday morning, was recovered by Ed Rogers last night within a few feet of where it sank. Mitchell was a carpenter working on the bridge between Balboa Island and the mainland, and jumped off a pontoon in the middle of the channel, taking a plank with him, as he was unable to swim. He lost his grip on the plank and sank before the other men on the bridge could come to his relief.

When the body was recovered his fingers were tightly locked across his breast, and his legs locked together, which led to the supposition that he was seized with cramps. Mitchell was 21 years old and came from Los Angeles last Monday, where his parents reside.

In the absence of Coroner Wm. Bigler of Orange county, the inquest was held by Justice J. B. Cox of Santa Ana and a certificate of accidental drowning made out.

The remains were taken to Los Angeles early Sunday morning by Breese Bros. undertakers.

Mrs. A. W. Kroschel, wife of the manager of the new steam dredger, was found unconscious in the bath tub Saturday morning as a result of taking an overdose of medicine for throat trouble. She was revived with difficulty and is still confined to her bed.

Business of all kinds along the beach, from Old Newport to Balboa, is at least 25 per cent better than at this time last year, owing chiefly to the forty-five minute car service between here and Los Angeles on the Pacific Electric. Newport Beach put up $4000 as its share of the money to defray the expense of the publicity campaign undertaken by the organization of the south coast towns and has found that the investment was a good one.

HYDROPLANE SUNK BY SCOW—TWO-MAN CREW SWAM ASHORE

VALLEJO, July 29.—A hydroplane, driven by Herman Streicher and Sverre Johnson, was wrecked near here Saturday by the wash of a scow schooner, and Streicher and Johnson escaped drowning only by a difficult swim through the choppy sea to Black Point, several hundred yards distant. The schooner continued on its course and the hydroplane sank.

The two adventurers remained on Black Point until another scow came along and took them off. The buoy floated above the hydroplane and it was hoisted to the deck of the scow.

BALLOONIST HAD NARROW ESCAPE—THRILLING DROP

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—Charles Colby, a veteran balloonist, made the most thrilling parachute drop of his life yesterday as the climax to an ascent from the Venice pier. As a result he was in bed at his home in Rialto boulevard, Venice, last night suffering from severe injuries.

Colby ascended to a height of several hundred feet and then cut loose his parachute. He shot downward at a terrific rate until the parachute opened. Then, instead of sailing lightly toward earth, he kept on dropping.

The parachute was too small to sustain his weight. He fell at the edge of the Grand canal, suffering sprains of both ankles and severe cuts and bruises.

MOJAVE SAND GOES BEFORE ADVANCE OF THE RANCHMAN

SAN BERNARDINO, July 29.—Only a question of a few years and the so-called Mojave desert will be a thing of the past. Desert wastes will have blossomed into fertile farms. Returning visitors to the country east of the San Bernardino mountains say the development there is marvelous. There promises to be a big rush of settlers again this fall who will take advantage of the winter rains to get a start through dry farming. Many of the ranchers now established on the desert have sunk wells and, in almost every instance, have secured a good supply of water.

The strike was made at a depth of 4000 feet and at the bottom of an 800-foot stratum of oil sand. No accurate estimate of the flow can as yet be made on account of the tremendous gas pressure, though the latter, the roar of whose escaping is plainly audible at a distance of half a mile, is indicative of a gusher of the first magnitude. The gas pressure now registers 800 pounds and appears to be on the increase, but is under perfect control. A large force of men is on hand to keep the big well in the harness and to guard against fire.

The well is located in what is the Orange Company's property, in the heart of the Fullerton field. A further indication of what may be expected is supplied by the fact that the new well is but 200 feet from the famous Menges well, pronounced by experts to be the greatest ever struck in Southern California, and which has produced $1,000,000 worth of oil in the year of its life.

The Columbia Consolidated was formed several weeks ago by a consolidation of the companies named and brings into existence one of the state's greatest oil producing and distributing organizations. Its capitalization is $3,500,000 and it controls 5000 acres of territory in the Fullerton field, nearly all of which has been proven, besides valuable holdings elsewhere.

CENTENARIAN NOW AS FIT AS SHE WAS SIXTY YEARS AGO

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—Mrs. Rebecca Kissick of this city, who will be 104 years old on September 14, next, is out with a challenge to all women of more than 50 years of age to race with her to the top of the City Hall. The City Hall is 550 feet in height and to go to the top it would be necessary to climb 500 steps, finishing the journey up a ladder to the tower.

Mrs. Kissick was discussing the tendency of women to get old before their time when she issued her race challenge. She declares that the pace at which the present-day women are living takes a decade from their lives and weakens them physically and mentally. She says she feels no older now than she did sixty years ago, and that she can do just as big a day's work now as she did when she was 50 years of age.

STRIKERS TO RESUME WORK

BOSTON, July 29.—The strikers employed by the Boston Elevated Railway Company Saturday night voted to accept a plan of settlement that calls for the reinstatement of the strikers in their former positions and recognition of the union. The company is not to discriminate between men who belong to the union and those who do not.

GREAT GUSHER IS OPENED UP

Fine Well Uncovered But a Short Distance From the Menges Well

Los Angeles Times: What oil men predict will be one of the notable oil gushers of Southern California was uncovered Saturday after three years of drilling in the Fullerton property controlled by the recently-formed consolidation of the Puenta, Pico, Orange and Columbia oil producing companies, to be later known as the Columbia Consolidated.

The strike was made at a depth of 4000 feet and at the bottom of an 800-foot stratum of oil sand. No accurate estimate of the flow can as yet be made on account of the tremendous gas pressure, though the latter, the roar of whose escaping is plainly audible at a distance of half a mile, is indicative of a gusher of the first magnitude. The gas pressure now registers 800 pounds and appears to be on the increase, but is under perfect control. A large force of men is on hand to keep the big well in the harness and to guard against fire.

IRRIGATIONISTS WANT GOV. JOHNSON

Engagement May Prevent His Attendance—Meeting of National Importance

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 29.—The many engagements of Governor Hiram Johnson may detain him from attending the annual session of the National Irrigation Congress to be held in this city Sept. 30 to Oct. 3; but in a letter to Secretary Arthur Hooker he assures members of the congress of his co-operation in every way that will add to the success of the congress.

The invitation extended Governor Johnson read in part as follows: "The 20th annual session of the National Irrigation Congress will be held in Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 30 to Oct. 3. Its deliberations and conclusions in connection with irrigation, drainage, flood control, navigation, forestry and home building will be of national interest and importance. The officers of the Congress desire to cooperate with the citizens of your state in making this meeting of the Congress of special benefit to California."

MIDDLE WEST CROP OUTLOOK IS GOOD

2500 Cars of Wheat Loaded in Kansas City Last Week—Prosperity Ahead

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 29.—The Middle West has started into the most prosperous season in its history. With the biggest wheat crop on record in Kansas, large yields in Oklahoma, Texas, Nebraska and Western Missouri, a favorable season thus far for a heavy out-turn of corn, unusually large hay crops already put up, rich pastures all over the West, a favorable outlook for cotton in Oklahoma and Texas, abundant yields of most fruits and remunerative prices for all commodities, it is evident that a big season is ahead for the railroads, the merchants, the bankers and all branches of industry.

Products Are Marketed
It means prosperity for everybody. Two and a half million dollars worth of wheat—2500 cars—was marketed in Kansas City last week. The live-stock receipts were valued at about the same sum. A multitude of minor commodities added several hundred thousand dollars more to the money paid to Western producers. The figures are impressively large. They give some indication of the commercial activity that has started up with the beginning of the big crop movement in the West. The Kansas wheat crop alone is worth about $75,000,000.

Nebraska and Oklahoma have produced 61,000,000 bushels more wheat this year than the final official estimates of last year's crop.

Record Wheat Yield
Kansas appears to have produced 95,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, the biggest crop that the state ever harvested. Final figures may run up to more than 100,000,000 bushels. Nebraska's crop is estimated at 47,000,000 bushels and Oklahoma's at 32,000,000 bushels.

Many phenomenal yields are reported in nearly every county, ranging from thirty to fifty bushels to the acre. One crop of fifty-seven bushels to the acre was reported in Harvey county, Kansas. Doniphan county also reported fifty-seven-bushel yield.

Reports from every county in Kansas show prospects for a big corn crop as well as a large wheat harvest. Only about 12 per cent of the reports show unpromising conditions.

MELON CROP VALUE
NEARS $3,000,000

Great Improvement in Quality and Quantity Reported by Market Men

Los Angeles Examiner: $2,800,000 is the conservative value placed by leading market men upon this year's Southern California melon crop. Of this large sum probably $2,700,000 was realized on cantaloupes and $100,000 on watermelons.

"Cantaloupes this year," said a prominent produce shipper yesterday, "are worth 25 cents a crate more than last; the quality is much better, and exceeds any of the last three years." The same merchant said that over 3000 carloads of cantaloupes were shipped East from Southern California, and sold at an average of $900 a carload.

That cantaloupe growing has come to stay as a California agricultural industry, is proved by the fact that over 5000 acres of California soil is yearly devoted to the cultivation of cantaloupes. Not only in the quality and quantity, during the past year, has there been an improvement, but also in the mode of shipping them. The bulk is now shipped through the California Cantaloupe Exchange, the result being a great saving in waste and freight charges.

While the returns from the sale of watermelons have not been as large, they have been equally as profitable as in other years. Charles E. Marston of Marston and Martin says that over 400 carloads of watermelons have been shipped from the Los Angeles market to date, and this from the cultivation of only about 300 acres.

E. E. KEECH DISCUSSES THE PROPOSAL FOR SHOESTRING STRIP AND JETTIES BONDS

Editor Register:

As one of the early "navigators" of Newport Bay, and as a citizen of Santa Ana, I have taken a lively interest in the prospects and development of Newport Harbor, and read with much pleasure the article and suggestions of Mr. Shaw in a recent issue of the Register, and will add some suggestions which have occurred to me during my long acquaintance with the subject.

The advantages resulting from the improvement of the harbor will be of two kinds. One will be the prompt improvement of the land surrounding the bay, by wharves, warehouses, and buildings of all kinds, manifolding the value of the lands surrounding the harbor, and increasing the business and trade of the port. The other will be the advantage to the back country or inland cities connecting with the new harbor, Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Corona, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Redlands. All of these are directly connected with Newport Harbor, naturally tributary to it, and will be greatly benefited by its opening to commerce.

The building of the proposed jetties and the dredging of the harbor channel will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, but they will directly add even more to the value of the lands surrounding the bay. Indirectly, in increasing the commerce of the inland cities mentioned, they will more than pay for their cost.

Obviously, the expense of these improvements ought to be borne by those receiving the benefit, and in proportion to the benefit received. Mr. Irvine is the owner of practically all the land surrounding the bay. The sand spit on the outer border and the tide lands in the bay are owned by other parties, and it has already been shown that the cost of dredging navigable channels in the bay is more than compensated by the increased value of the adjacent tide lands thereby built up and reclaimed.

The dredging of the channels, therefore, will pay for itself, and the expense of the jetties only remains to be provided for. Since the direct benefit of the harbor improvements results to the surrounding land owned by Mr. Irvine, it would seem just that he should contribute a goodly portion of the sum needed. Santa Ana is the city and commercial center nearest to the harbor, and most vitally interested in its improvement, and should therefore be expected to give every encouragement and assistance she may legitimately furnish as a community or municipality. Orange is nearly as much interested. Anaheim and Fullerton come next, and Corona, Riverside and San Bernardino are benefited in the order named.

The suggestion is made by Mr. Shaw that the territory of the municipality of Santa Ana be extended down so as to include all of Newport Bay from the municipal boundaries of Newport Beach on the west to the ocean on the east of Corona Del Mar, and that the municipality so extended bond itself for funds to construct a jetty on the east side of the harbor mouth, and for the improvement of the inner harbor and the construction of municipal docks.

While Orange would be nearly as much benefited as Santa Ana, and Anaheim, Fullerton, Corona, Riverside and San Bernardino also in lesser and decreasing degrees, it is probably practically impossible (and legally almost certainly so), to legally unite any of these municipalities in this enterprise. Santa Ana must "go it alone." She might, following the example of Los Angeles, extend her borders down to, and then consolidate with, Newport Beach. But that is a matter of detail. Before, however, the city of Santa Ana and its citizens commit themselves to any plan of action, the whole situation should be carefully considered.

In the long fight for a free harbor for Los Angeles, the contest was between Santa Monica and San Pedro. The city fought for San Pedro, on the ground that it was not only the best natural site, but that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and its wealthy men and allies had such a monopoly of the lands bordering on Santa Monica Bay that it would be practically impossible to secure a free harbor and a competitive outlet for commerce at that point. This consideration caused the city to reject any and all overtures on behalf of the Southern Pacific for the location of the harbor at Santa Monica, and finally resulted in its location at San Pedro. Even there, the city found that private interests had already acquired and were holding a large portion of the inner basin and border lands of the harbor, it has been constantly engaged in heavy and costly litigation, seeking to recover portions of these lands covered by voidable patents or leases to private parties, so as to make San Pedro the people's free harbor in fact, as well as in name.

The holdings of Mr. Irvine around Newport Harbor are much more complete and restrictive than those of the Southern Pacific on Santa Monica Bay. For the city of Santa Ana to extend its borders down to the ocean surrounding the bay and issue bonds for the improvement of the harbor under present conditions, would be to mortgage its property and contribute its revenues for an enterprise largely for the benefit of Mr. Irvine, and but little for its own; for there would be little prospect of securing a "people's harbor" while Mr. Irvine owned and controlled practically the entire harbor frontage.

But Mr. Irvine is known as a very able, fair-minded, straightforward business man, and will, no doubt, be glad to co-operate with the municipality of Santa Ana upon a basis fair to all. It occurs to me that if he would convey the lands abutting on the west shore of the bay to the city of Santa Ana, to be used, so far as necessary, for municipal wharves, and the remainder to be sold, and the proceeds applied to the improvement of the harbor, retaining for himself practically the entire east shore of the harbor, it would insure a free harbor, give the city of Santa Ana a fair interest as a partner in the enterprise, and warrant its citizens in issuing bonds and taxing themselves for the joint enterprise.

In considering this matter, it must be kept in mind that Mr. Irvine is the owner of the great Rancho San Joaquin and Lomas de Santiago, stretching from Newport Bay to the Riverside county line, containing some 60,000 acres of the best arable lands in the county, worth about the same as the city of Santa Ana; and all of this would be greatly increased in value by the improvement of the harbor at its lower end.

I hope we shall hear from others on this important subject.

Respectfully yours,

E. E. KEECH.

Five Thousand People Attend Camp Meeting

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—With every seat filled and with hundreds standing against the walls and added hundreds crowded around the open windows of the great Auditorium, it is estimated that fully five thousand persons from all over Southern California heard the camp meeting services here yesterday morning. Evangelist Brown was at his best and taking the Bible as his subject, held the immense audience at close attention for more than an hour.

He touched upon the great infidels and their attacks on the Bible, but declared that in spite of them all it still stood as the guide for humanity. Speaking of the miracles of the Old Testament, he created much amusement by his comments on their critics.

Alternately eloquent, earnest and facetious, the great preacher swayed his audience to his varying moods and responsive cries of approval greeted him from all over the house. He said that he had always pitied the whale more than Jonah in the story of that incident as even a whale had a big job on hand when it tried to swallow a backslider. "God nowhere asks for your head and might not get much if He got it," said the evangelist, commencing upon the efforts to reconcile the miracles with reason. "He asks only for your heart, and when that is given, all problems will disappear."

The speaker declared that he was satisfied that persons who believed in the theory of evolution went to the circus chiefly to see their ancestors, but for himself, he declined to admit that he was descended either from a monkey or a tadpole. "Not from the lowest of creation, downward, but from the hand of God upward, came man's descent," shouted the evangelist.

THE SPIRIT AWAKENED

A Story of the Christian and the Renegade

The girl, her father and invalid mother toll to keep their small farm, which is under a mortgage which falls due. Gathering together their earnings, they find the sum not quite enough to pay off the mortgage. On the farm are two farm-hands, one a true Christian, who is the but of the other, a renegade. The latter imposes on the former, regarding him as without spirit. The Christian learns of the family's needs, and gives them his money, thus making enough to pay off the mortgage. The renegade learns of this, and having victimized one of the young women of the village decides to steal the money and get away. Now the Christian boy shows his spirit, and after an exciting chase and night succeeds in recovering the money. The above picture play, with the latest Pathé weekly of numerous subjects from all quarters of the globe, "The Dream of the Moving Picture Director" and Rogers and Lyons in a big vaudeville number of high class music will make up the new show at the Bell for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night. It is worth while seeing.

INCREASING WATER SUPPLY

In the last year a number of wells have been drilled and are now being pumped successfully in the orange orchards districts of this county. These orchards are under the S. A. V. Irrigation Co. or the Anaheim Union Water Co., but the fact that these wells have been drilled is no reflection on the efficiency of these companies. The wells mean that the ranchers who have them have not only insured themselves against dry seasons, but have put themselves in a position so that in every season they can have water when they want it, and get as much as they want.

Both of the big water companies have drilled wells and are working pumps. The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co. has plans for further development along that line, and as a company will insure its stockholders against dry years and will provide a greater supply of water for the use of the area supplied by the company.

All of the water companies are alive to the importance of protecting watersheds. The reforestation and protective work in the San Bernardino mountains is joined in by the two big Orange county irrigation companies. The Tri-Counties Reforestation Committee is doing a good work in the spreading of storm waters of the Santa Ana river. This same kind of work has been done successfully in the Santiago canyon under an agreement by the Serrano Water Co. of Villa Park, the John T. Carpenter Water Co. of El Modena and the Irvine Co. The water that otherwise would run down to the sea in waste during the winter is diverted on to gravel beds and allowed to sink into the earth, to percolate slowly downward and rise in the summer time when the water is needed.

The entire movement is commendable from every point of view. Water conservation and water development are vital questions in this county, and that practical steps in the direction of both conservation and development have been taken speak well for the enterprise of the people and a preparation for the continued growth of this section.

Every passenger over the Pacific Electric from Santa Ana to Newport Beach, East Newport or Balboa has a just complaint to make in the inconvenience of changing cars at Huntington Beach. The inconvenience is bad enough on days of ordinary traffic, but with the camp meeting now on at Huntington Beach the ordinary slow-moving passenger may expect to stand. Yesterday two cars crowded with people from Santa Ana bound for the sandspit beaches were taken to Huntington Beach, and there the occupants of the two cars had to scramble for the privilege of packing themselves into one car. The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has asked for through cars to Balboa, but as yet the P. E. has failed to better the conditions.

Reports received through Riverside county newspapers indicate that Anderson will receive the full support of the progressives of that county, which means a majority in that county for Anderson over Chapman in the fight for the nomination for state senator. They recognize that a vote for Chapman means a vote of endorsement for the Chicago convention.

HIS RECORD EXCELLENT, HIS EXPERIENCE VALUABLE AND
HE IS RIGHT ON ROOSEVELT*Reasons Why the Republicans of the Thirty-ninth Senatorial District Should Nominate and Elect John N. Anderson

Now that the issue is clearly drawn between Roosevelt and Taft aspirants for the Republican nomination for state senator, it is well that the people should be informed of the record, reputation, experience and ability of John N. Anderson of Santa Ana, the progressive candidate for state senator, and for that reason the Register presents the following sketch of Mr. Anderson's career as a public official and his standing upon public matters.

Anderson represented Riverside and Orange counties in the State Senate from 1904 to 1908 to the entire satisfaction of the district.

He received the Republican nomination for that office at the senatorial convention held at Orange over his two competitors, former State Senator A. B. Caldwell of Riverside and former Assemblyman Richard Melrose, the leading attorney of Anaheim, and was elected in November, 1904, by the largest majority ever polled in the district, viz.: 3318.

He became a candidate for the office at that time on the request of a few active Republicans in Orange county, who had become tired of taking the machine's orders.

Believing that the rank and file of the party would rally to a reform movement, they prosecuted a vigorous campaign with surprising results, securing ten out of twelve of the senatorial delegates and no effort was made to get the two delegates in the supervisorial district in which Melrose resided and where the old guard was well entrenched.

Anderson proved himself an untiring and effective campaigner. The reform movement thus commenced has continued to the present time and some of those original leaders are again behind Anderson for nomination and election.

Other Honors
Mr. Anderson, besides serving in the state senate has held other public offices. He was a member of the Santa Ana Board of Education for eight years, a trustee of the Whittier State School under Governor Pardee, and a director of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Active in Enterprises
Beside being actively engaged in the practice of the law, he has successfully promoted several large enterprises going to the upbuilding of his home county. He was one of the original promoters of the city of Huntington Beach, the sea-side resort of Sunset Beach and the business center of the new town of Stanton, now a director in the corporations owning the two last named enterprises.

He has also been active in the upbuilding of his home city of Santa Ana, where he has constructed or assisted in the construction of several dwellings and business blocks. Some years ago he and his associates purchased a part of Chinatown, now no more, removed several of the old shacks, practically donated to the city the present site of the City Hall and paved Main street from Fourth to Second, thus cleaning up a portion of the central part of the city long an eyesore. He was instrumental in having several of the city's streets straightened, sidewalked and some of them paved.

An Original Progressive
He was one of the organizers of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League at Oakland five years ago, was largely instrumental in effecting a strong organization of the Orange County Lincoln-Roosevelt Club shortly thereafter, and participated enthusiastically in Governor Johnson's fight two years ago.

He has been unanimously endorsed by the Republican Progressive League of his home county and will no doubt have the support of all progressives as well as other Republicans of the district who believe in his political consistency and sincerity.

Mr. Anderson is well acquainted with the people and conditions of Riverside county, such acquaintance being acquired in part, through his having represented this district in the senate and through his residence in Corona from 1892 to 1896, where his public spirit and activity were also manifested. He also has quite an acquaintance in Imperial county, where he has traveled considerably in a business way, and has many friends in the valley who moved there from this county.

Worker In Senate
He was one of the hardest workers in the senate, fearlessly standing for all good measures and against all bad measures. He made a heroic fight for the woman suffrage amendment in the session of 1905 when that question was very unpopular in the legislature. He introduced and passed many important measures both of local and

History Instructs the World by Its Examples

(BY LOUIS H. KOEPSL)

History is the Philosophy of Instruction by Example.

This is perhaps as concise a definition as can well be given. Let us examine some phases of our history and politics in its light.

Greece was an invincible nation just so long as its citizens loved free government and remained uncorrupted. When Aeschines under the garb of patriotism corrupted the policy of Athens the downfall of Greece became a possibility. When Greek inhabitants became rich from the labor of the slaves, effeminacy set in while the lofty ideals of government, literature, art, music and philosophy sank to the lowest level. The nation still had the semblance of being alive, but as a factor for the betterment of its own citizens and through them an organized force to advance their neighbors it was a corpse. The leaders of Greece about this time were not concerned much in the welfare of the nation. Their first question was, "What is there in it for us?" The Roman republic had a parallel experience. Corruption by the graft route was its destruction. In each case the corruption came from the unlawful rich. They were interested in measures which would enrich them the more. They hired legislators to oppose measures which would deprive them of a legal standing. Laws were perverted into a semblance of right, but invariably they helped to bind more burdens upon the very ones they professed to aid.

Other nations might be cited to prove the point. In each case the leaders became untrustworthy. They prostituted their offices into a means to enrich themselves, and the nations became extinct.

Thinking on this line, make a comparison of national and political matters in our own nation. There is no ordinary man but sees that our two national parties are corrupt. The poison which caused the downfall of many a great and glorious nation is at work with all its force in them.

The acts of the conventions in Chicago and Baltimore are the proof. The cry among them is not, "What is best for the whole people?" but "What is there in it for us and the followers who can put us into office?" Our national congress has been and is in bad odor from the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill; the senate is in even worse light through Stephenson, Loring and the like. Our courts are rapidly falling into disrepute by such acts as those of Archibald and Hanford. Our executive branch has lost its halo by upholding men of the Balsinger type. And so on down the line.

For those of the district who do not know Mr. Anderson it might be well to state further, that he has been a resident of this Senatorial district for twenty years, four in Corona and sixteen in Santa Ana. He has a substantial literary, business and legal education, is 48 years of age and a member of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana, where he attends with his wife and six children.

Anderson is a progressive out and stands for presidential primaries, election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, the initiative, referendum and recall, and was a worker in favor of woman's suffrage.

The Right Man
The Republicans of this district should nominate the man whom they think will best represent them in the law-making body of the state, and at the same time carry out the wishes of the great majority of the Republicans of the district and state in the matter of the selection of presidential electors and in furthering the great progressive movement of this state and nation.

Mr. Chapman, if nominated, will vote for Taft electors, thereby putting his stamp of disapproval and condemnation upon the political attitude and public policies of Governor Johnson and the other progressive delegates to the Chicago convention and whitewash the public crime there committing, while Mr. Anderson if nominated, will vote for Roosevelt electors, thereby sustaining the action of the California delegates and the determined ambition of the progressives of this and other states in their fight for a clean and honest government.

Chapman would naturally be against the state administration; Anderson is for it.

Chapman is the candidate of old railroad machine men; Anderson is the candidate of the plain people and progressives.

Chapman is without legislative experience; Anderson has a good legislative record.

Chapman will have the support in his campaign of the enemies and opponents of Roosevelt and Johnson; Anderson will have the support of Johnson and his friends throughout the state, including the able and leading progressives of Los Angeles and the three counties comprising this senatorial district.

The Progressive movement for Good Government is much stronger and more popular in this state than it was prior to the May primaries and the Chicago convention, and as the Roosevelt delegates to that convention received a vote of about three to one in this district, and by all means the district should nominate a progressive.

When the progressive cause is imminent of success so that even a standpat politician can see it, new converts will apply for office in vain. They have been and will be put up by little pup suckers. Parasites are not needed. Converted, they must prove their sincerity by a few years of probation.

Competent officers must be placed not only in our national offices, but in local offices as well. Parasites are not officers as well.

Hence all the more the need of a new party which is truly national, for our whole country, which is truly representative of the whole state in state matters, which is inclusive of every concern pertaining to each county, or city.

There can be no exception from the top to the bottom.

Salary-seekers and 'boss-servers' cannot bring the revolution about. They have fed at the public crib so all state, county, township and city long they seem to think that the crib is their personal property. If we will learn the lesson from history we will not be content until every officer who has betrayed the trust placed in him and every straddler is displaced and an honorable citizen is put in office.

If the head 'national leadership' is evil, it must obtain that subordinate leadership is also contaminated. Bad leave soon poisons the whole. This is what history and science teach. Shall we take heed and thus retain our worldwide leadership? If we do not act our race is run and Providence will give this leadership to the Republic of China.

Dr. Shepherd of Boston Believes Virus Discovered—
Anti-Toxin Will Result

BOSTON, July 29.—A cure for that frightful disease, infantile paralysis, will soon be given to the world, it is confidently expected.

After four years' study and investigation at the Harvard Medical School, Dr. Phillips A. T. Shepherd is convinced that he has isolated the microscopic infectious virus that causes the paralysis.

Now that the virus, a morbid poison, has been isolated, it will also be comparatively easy to find an antitoxin to combat it.

Dr. Shepherd, a special investigator for the State Board of Health, declares that dust, particularly, and the horsefly carry the virus of infantile paralysis and plays the most important part in its propagation and distribution.

DEMOCRATIC WOMAN'S DELICIOUS LEMONADE IS BREW FIT FOR GODS

A lemonade, properly and daintily prepared, is just as delectable made by the hands of a fair Democrat, as though mixed by the most thorough going Progressive alive. Democratic femininity of Los Angeles has given to the world the recipe for a lemonade that sounds enticing. Here it is:

"One teacup of pineapple juice, one teacup of orange juice and one cup of lemon juice to the quart with an equal amount of crushed pine-apple, crushed orange and preserved cherries."

"Yum! Yum! Just listen to the ice tinkling—Yes, please, another glass."

BIG LINE OF CARPET SAMPLES ON DISPLAY

By courtesy of H. A. Fitzgerald, coast representative of the Hardwick-Magee Carpet Company of Philadelphia, the Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Store is today showing the entire line of samples of carpets and rugs put out by this big carpet manufacturing concern.

This is a rare opportunity for local people to see an assortment of carpets such as is seldom to be seen in cities of this size.

The Hardwick-Magee company makes only the better grades of carpets, such as French Wiltons, Bunder-Wiltons and Body Brussels, and in the line of samples now being shown are some two hundred patterns in these grades.

These carpets will only be at the Horton-Spurgeon store today, and up until noon tomorrow. All who desire are invited to call and inspect them.

MISS SNODGRASS' DEAD BODY FOUND

Promoted to Presidency of That Corporation, succeeding W. F. Herrin

CATSKILL, N. Y., July 29.—A body positively identified as that of Miss Dorcas L. Snodgrass, the missing New York girl, was found here today. The body was found in the mud of Catskill creek. Similarity of dress and other points led to what is believed to be a correct identification.

When Miss Snodgrass, who was a nurse, disappeared, she wore a diamond engagement ring.

A diamond ring was found on the woman's body.

Miss Snodgrass was prominent in Christian Endeavor work. On the coat of the woman found at Catskill creek, there was a Junior Endeavor pin. The body found in the water is decomposed and an autopsy to determine the cause of death may not be possible.

The body was found face downward in the mud. No trace of water was in the lungs and no evidence of violence. Coroner's branch is of the opinion that it is a case of suicide. Color is led to this theory by the statement made by relatives of the girl that she had suffered from the heat.

Under the management of Mr. Shoup the millions of dollars' worth of improvements contemplated by the Pacific Electric will be undertaken; comprehensive plans to relieve railway traffic will be worked

LABOR FAMINE IN WEST AND NORTH-WEST IS STRONG

SPOKANE, Wash., July 29.—That the whole American West and Northwest are facing a serious labor famine like that now confronting the lumber companies, railroads, contractors, farmers and fruit growers of the inland empire, is indicated by dispatches that have reached Spokane from Duluth, Minn., and middle western points.

Summed up in accordance with information received from the big farming and lumber-making districts east of the Rocky Mountains, and conditions known to exist in Washington, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, British Columbia and Alberta, the state of affairs in the labor situation is serious. Here in the northwest the loss of crops, is imminent because of lack of men to harvest them.

In Duluth, as is the case in Spokane, according to labor companies, contractors, farmers and employment agents, top wages and the rather unusual allurement of free fare and no employment office fee offers, have failed to obtain men to fill the demand.

It is declared that 50,000 men are needed to handle the crops in the Red River Valley and in Western Canada. At least 10,000 men are needed in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, above the number now available.

CASE OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS REPORTED FROM WESTMINSTER

People in the neighborhood of Westminster are greatly excited over a case of infantile paralysis which has developed in that town. Little Doyle Stockton, the two-year-old child of Edward Stockton, is the victim of the dreaded disease which is causing so much alarm among the parents of small children.

Dr. C. C. Violet of Garden Grove has the case in charge and yesterday Dr. Ralph Moore, a nerve specialist of Los Angeles, who has had considerable experience with the disease in Los Angeles, where it is epidemic, was called in consultation. Dr. Moore pronounced the case a typical one and urged the isolation of the Stockton family, and he urged that all parents who have children under 12 years of age keep their children as closely at home as possible.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The bottom dropped off the cantaloupe market yesterday morning and before it could be replaced the price on this delightful summer melon was down to 7¢ cents on pony crates and the standard sizes sold from 9¢ cents to 11¢ cents. The greatest portion of the stock is coming in from Imperial and Coachella Valley and there has been much of it within the past few days that has not been of very high grade. Over ripe and green melons have been packed by some of the producers in promiscuous fashion, showing that the vines are being stripped right through in an effort to get the best possible prices before the local crop becomes heavy, according to the opinion of some of the wholesalers here. Gantlopes from this section are beginning to arrive in marketable quantities and are of good appearance. Watermelons were also down and a high price was a cent a pound. They sold at 810 per ton in large lots and were not very fast in moving.

Cherry receipts were the lightest since the opening of the season. Only 5 crates were received and the market on this fruit went as high as 30 cents among the few dealers who controlled the little stock on hand. Apple receipts were heavier, 460 boxes, and the demand was good with no slackening off in the present quotations. Grapes were down and some of the black varieties are beginning to appear. The first shipment of Tokay is expected to arrive here today.

In the vegetable market there were no changes, all varieties of bunch goods being plentiful and the salad vegetables being more than that in the case of tomatoes.

The staple market remained steady all through the list as far as fixed prices are concerned. Total arrivals of eggs were 175 cases and prices were steady with few sales on the exchange.

Butter remained at 29½ cents on creamery extras. Arrivals of the commodity were 22,567 pounds. The Northern market was reported steady.

Cheese arrivals were 7004 pounds. Tillamook, or Oregon dairy cheese sold well. The market on eastern varieties is slow, and fancy cheese is also moving sluggishly.

Sweet potatoes were particularly plentiful and sold from 4½ to 5½ cents on the open market.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

WHERE DID HE GET A COPY

Attorney Bishop Would Like to Know How Carter Hit So
Near the Signature

This morning when Attorney Clyde Bishop was called as a witness against George Carter, charged with forging Bishop's name to a check for $5.25, he asked Carter:

"Where did you get my signature from which you made this copy? That forged is a mighty good copy."

Carter laughed, and answered: "I am not on the witness stand."

Bishop's question was out of curiosity. Carter admits the forgery, and says he would have done anything the day he passed the check, because he was intoxicated. The check was on the Orange County Savings & Trust Co., and was accepted by Mrs. M. E. Reddington, from whom Carter had rented a room. Bishop never saw Carter until after Carter was arrested, and never heard of him. This morning Bishop gave Carter a quarter with which to buy tobacco.

Carter is anxious to get the matter into the superior court, so that he can get his sentence and be on his way to prison. The man is somewhat of a mystery. He may be an ex-convict and wants to get his sentence before his record is discovered.

MISSION TOWN WINS

An exciting game of baseball was played at San Juan Capistrano yesterday, in which the mission players defeated a team from El Modena by a score of 3 to 2.

SAYS HE IS BURGLAR

Bowing twice to every step, K. Tani, a neatly-dressed Jap, approached Justice Cox this morning. Tani has been awaiting a hearing on a charge of stealing $85 from the coat of another Jap. Today the officers concluded that he is the man wanted for stealing a watch from S. Nakagawa at Smelter on June 30. The officers have been thinking that a Mexican got the watch, but when Tani was arrested they changed their minds, for in Tani's possession was the watch. Tani declared he bought it from a Mexican at Talbert.

This morning when the case came up for trial, the defendant in the suit of J. M. C. Hill against Nick Karales offered a settlement out of court. The settlement was accepted, and the case was dismissed.

Clerk Complimented

County Clerk Williams today received a letter from the State Fish and Game Commission, that says:

"We wish to compliment you in the very highest manner. You are the first county clerk in the state of California who has succeeded in obtaining 100 members for the game association.

We are taking the liberty of forwarding you 100 more cards. We feel that you must be very much interested in this matter of the people proposing legislation for their fish and game affairs."

The clerk has application cards for anyone wishing to join the game association. The cost is twenty-five cents, which may be paid to Williams, and often is paid on the taking out of a hunter's license.

(Williams says the credit for the big list from this county should go to Deputy Game Commissioner Rokin-

7000 WOMEN WERE REGISTERED IN BAY CITY LAST WEEK

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—More than 7000 women were registered as voters last week, according to a statement made by Registrar Zemansky. The result was due largely to the woman suffrage organization, which placed "pickets" in front of the branch registration offices. Many working women and shopping housewives were thus induced to register. The total registration for the week was 18,000.

He quoted actual cases wherein he had obtained healthy brain tissue, extracted therefrom cerebrin and cholesterol, and injected these substances into insane patients. This treatment, he declared, caused delusions to vanish.

Some of the school board keenly resent the situation in which the board has been put by the bringing out of the insurance matter, and the construction that Sturges is alleged to have put upon it in that he included the entire board in the transaction. That is the reason a thorough investigation is to be instituted. Duggan and Sturges both made their statements Friday to the effect that the writing of the insurance was entirely independent of their official positions.

Cure for Insane.
LIVERPOOL, July 28.—A cure for insanity by the injection of substances from a healthy brain was described by Dr. William Maule Smith yesterday before a section of the British Medical Association Congress.

There will be a meeting of the school board tomorrow evening, and there is more than likely to be some developments in the sensation that broke Friday night when J. P. Kennedy stated that A. B. Sturges, the architect employed for the polytechnic high school, had told him that it was necessary for Sturges in order to hold his job to take out a $5000 life insurance policy in the company represented by W. L. Duggan, president of the school board.

The school board has not formally set down the matter for investigation, but it is understood by the members of the board that the architect will be on hand, and that if possible some of the witnesses who heard him make attestimony.
